

ROAD RECORDS

ASSOCIATION

OF SCOTLAND

HANDBOOK -- 2014

INTRODUCTION

In December 1909, on a suggestion by H.S. Bible [the inventor of the Endrick cycle Wheel rim], a meeting was held in Glasgow by interested cyclist who decided to Form the Road Records of Scotland. The object of the Association was to check And verify claims to records by cyclists on Scottish roads. In March 1910 the Constitution, Rules and Standards were set.

The Association currently accepts claims to best performance for 20 records. It accepts claims For four categories of machine, bicycle, tricycle, tandem bicycle and tandem tricycle. For each Record and type of machine there is a record for male and female riders and for mixed Gender tandem crews.

Place to place records begin and end in major towns and cities, usually at the General Post Alterations and or improvements to buildings and road networks mean this may no longer be Possible at some locations. New start / finish points will be at clearly recognisable and Significant locations as near as possible to the original point.

Record Aspirants must familiarize themselves with the Rules of the R.R.A.S. as printed In the Handbook, particularly Rules 24- 27 [Records], 28- 39 [Notices] and 40- 46 [Claims]. A schedule should be prepared well in advance, thoroughly checking the Route, and then submit the schedule to the General Secretary well in advance. The aspirant is responsible for acquiring Timekeepers and observers and ensuring That all expenses incurred by these officials are reimbursed.

The R.R.A.S. ratifies claims to record but does not itself organise record attempts. Members of the Association Committee have experience of organising attempts and May be able to offer advice and assistance. Please contact General Secretary.
